Students should select at least 2.0 credits of alternate electives in order for the counselors to create the best possible class schedule should scheduling conflicts arise.

Fall schedule changes are only allowed for errors and prerequisite requirements. Elective choices made in the spring are final. To solve schedule conflicts, counselors may substitute an alternate choice for an elective. Due to overloaded class size, counselors cannot accommodate "change of mind" requests. Possible reasons for a schedule change: student has already earned credit for the class in which they are enrolled, the student has not met a prerequisite for the course, ARD/504 committee decision, Research Practicum students do not have an internship by the deadline, or a student has failed the course under the same teacher and another teacher is available.

Other than the reasons listed above, ALL SCHEDULES ARE FINAL on June 4,2008.
